

Completing Reviews in the Grant Portal

Last verified by Ivana Sosa on 06-03-2025

Thank you for taking the time to serve as a reviewer for The Michael J. Fox Foundation for Parkinson's Research. Having best-in-class evaluators assess our potential projects is essential to supporting our mission to find a cure for Parkinson's.

This guidance covers how to complete reviews in The Michael J. Fox Foundation (MJFF) Grant Portal. This includes topics such as:

Logging into the Grant Portal

Accessing Your Reviews to Complete

Declaring Conflicts of Interest

Accessing the Application and Application Documents

Completing the Review

Accessing Your Reviews Once Submitted

Logging into the Grant Portal

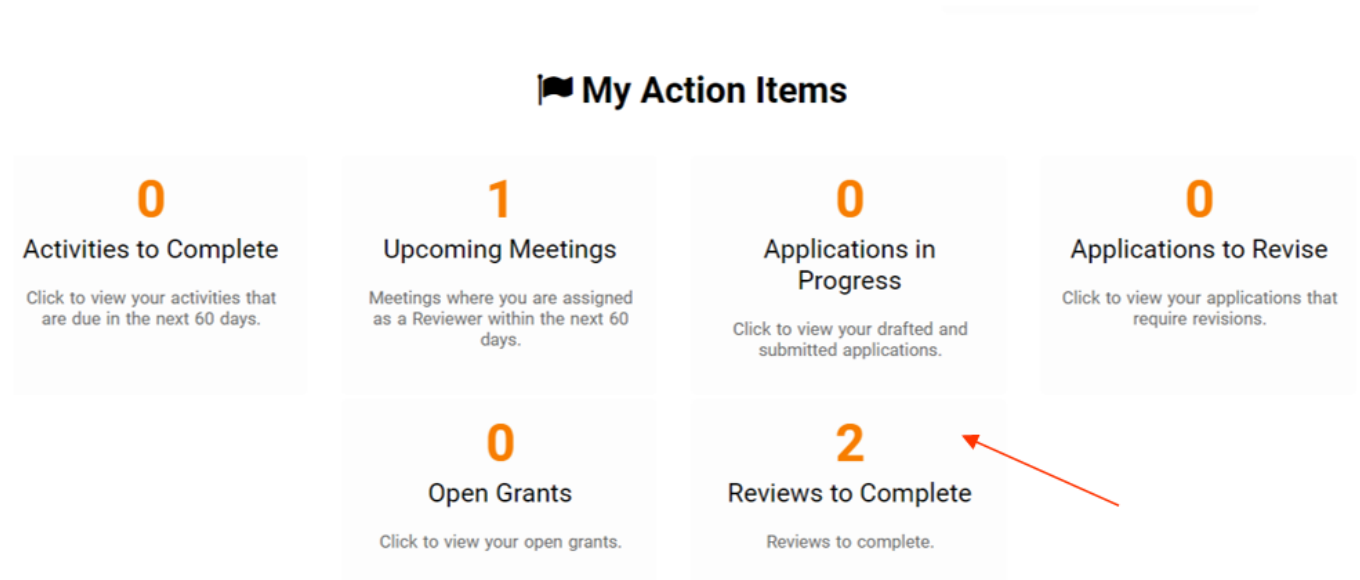

When you have been assigned to review applications for MJFF, you will receive an email alert notifying you and prompting you to login to the MJFF Grant Portal. A Grant Portal account has already been created for you, but if this is your first time logging in you will need to set up a password by clicking Forgot Password. For more information about setting up an account, please see our guidance here.

Accessing Your Reviews to Complete

Once you login to the Grant Portal, you will be brought to your home page. Your home page may look a little different depending on your role in the system, but you should see a shortcut called Reviews to Complete under My Action Items. The number displayed here will be the number of reviews you have been assigned to but have yet to complete. Please note that if you have any rescoring to complete later on in the review process these will also be displayed under Reviews to Complete.

Click into the Reviews to Complete shortcut, which will open all reviews you have yet to complete. From here you can click on each one to access the review and the application.

Declaring Conflicts of Interest (only applicable for full proposal reviews)

If you are completing a Pre-Proposal Triage review, disregard this section.

When you click on one of the reviews you have been assigned to, the review will open and display basic information about the review and the application.

For the majority of MJFF reviews, before you can proceed with the review, you must declare any conflicts of interest that were not previously reported, as team members may have changed between when you declared conflicts originally and when you are completing the review. To review the most up-to-date team members on the application, click the View button next to Team Members, which will open a pop-up displaying team members, emails, institution, and role on the proposed project.

Submit

If you select Yes (you have a conflict), please explain the conflict and then click Submit. You can then return to your home page by clicking on the MJFF logo on the top left of the screen and proceed with your next assigned review. You may receive an email from an MJFF staff member about a reassignment.

If you have no conflicts and select No, the review questions will populate.

Accessing the Application and Application Documents

Once you click into a review (or once you complete the Conflict of Interest question if applicable), you can access the application to be reviewed by clicking on the Actions button on the top left of the screen and selecting View Application in Split Screen.

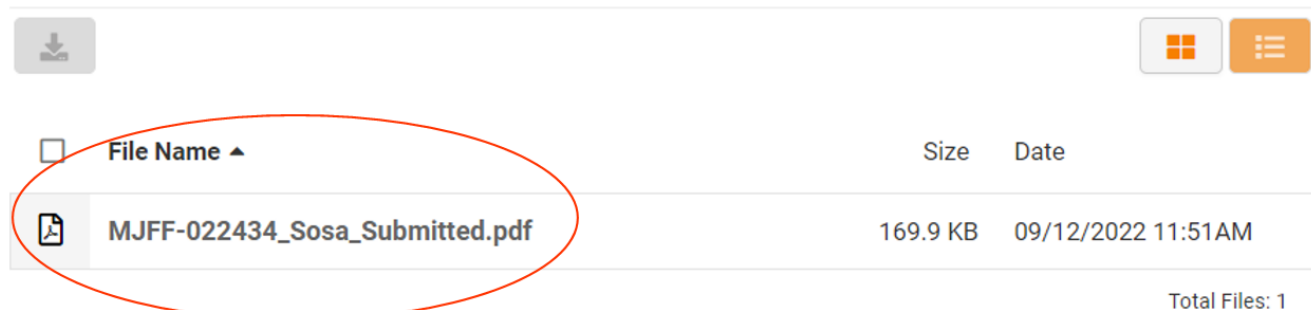

When you select this option, the application to be reviewed will appear on the left side of the screen and the review on the right side.

To avoid being prematurely logged out of the Grant Portal, MJFF's Grants Team recommends reviewing the proposal documents by downloading the application as a single PDF. To do this, on the application (left side of the screen) scroll down to Application PDF (Full Proposal or Pre-Proposal, depending on which stage you are reviewing for) and download the file.

The PDF that generates will contain the following:

- All application fields the applicant entered.
- Research Team Members information, which will include information on the proposal's team members. Please note that this PDF does NOT include the biographic information for each Research Team Member. To access this, you must download the biosketch of each team member from within the application. Please refer to the section below on Downloading Biosketches for instructions to gather these profiles.
- Links to the budget file (if applicable), the Project Proposal Template, and any other attachments (if applicable).
- The actual Project Proposal Template file will also be embedded in the PDF (as mentioned in the previous bullet the Project Proposal Template is also accessible via a link in the PDF).

If you do not wish to download the Application PDF, you can alternatively scroll through the application tabs on the left side of the screen, clicking between the application tabs, to review information and download proposal documents individually.

Completing the Review

Once you have reviewed the relevant application information, complete the review on the right side of the screen by answering the questions. The MJFF Grants team recommends writing your comments in a separate document and pasting them into the review to avoid being prematurely locked out. As a reminder, written critiques should be written in English, in formal language, and should be appropriate for eventual dissemination to peer reviewers and applicants.

If at any point you need to step away from the review, click the Save Draft button to ensure your work is saved. When you return later, your review can still be accessed through Reviews to Complete on your home page (if it has not yet been submitted).

When you have completed the review, click the Submit button and your review will be submitted. Please note that once a review has been submitted, you cannot change any information in it yourself. If you need to make an adjustment to a submitted review, you may email grants@michaeljfox.org for assistance.

If you have multiple reviews to complete, to start your next review you can either navigate back to your homepage by clicking the MJFF logo on the top left corner of the screen to access the next review through Reviews to Complete or you can simply click the arrow button while still in your submitted review to proceed to the next review.

Accessing Your Reviews Once Submitted

Once a review has been submitted, you cannot change any information in it. If you need to make an adjustment to a submitted review, please email grants@michaeljfox.org for assistance.

You can, however, still access all submitted reviews. To do this, go to your homepage, click on Menu on the upper right, and then select Grant Management Portal.

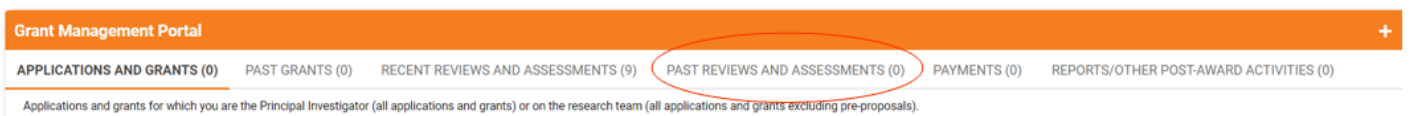

Once in the Grant Management Portal, navigate to the Recent Reviews and Assessment tab.

This will display all reviews that have been assigned to you, regardless of whether they have been completed or if they are still pending within the last year. You can access the review from here, though as a reminder you will not be able to change a submitted review unless you email grants@michaeljfox.org.

If you want to access reviews from over a year, navigate to the Past Reviews and Assessments Tab.

Thank you again for reviewing for The Michael J. Fox Foundation. Please reach out to the Grants Team at grants@michaeljfox.org should you have any questions or concerns.
